In 2009 the Commission took it upon themselves to update the design guidelines use for the Local Historic Districts. There were areas in the document that were unclear and did not give adequate guidance. The local historic district designs guidelines was created as a result hard work over an 18 month period. The existing guidelines were reviewed, analyzed and rewritten to reflect the needs of Statesville's local historic district residents and property owners. Colored photos, diagrams and drawings were added to the document to serve as a resource for owners/residents of historic properties in their efforts to maintain and preserve their historic structures.
